

Trapping a Professor by Wire.

Among some amusing college scrapes told by "A Graduate," in the September Ladies' Home Journal, is a story of a certain professor, not much liked by his pupils, who was to be married. The lady lived in Cleveland. And the students that loved (?) him were not, of course, invited. But they determined that in some way he should hear from them. And he did. On the day appointed the professor took the train at 10 a. m., due to arrive at Cleveland at 12:30 p. m. About eleven o'clock Jim Townsend rushed to the telegraph office and sent off this dispatch:

"Chief of Police, Cleveland, O. Man coming on train No. 6, tall, well dressed, frock coat, silk hat, side whiskers. Escaped lunatic. Hold! Shrewd, therefore beware! Strange case. Will say name finally. Mistake. Think he is professor in a college. Deception. Escort to home of friends at No. 4 Euclid avenue."

This message reached its destination long before train No. 6 reached Cleveland, so that when Professor Finali alighted it was to walk straight into the custody of three detectives. They would listen to no words of reason, but escorted him out to the house on Euclid avenue, the home of his intended bride.

An Unique Magazine.

The Good Times Monthly is the title of the latest applicant for literary honors, and should it maintain the standard of excellence displayed in the first two numbers it will earn a position among the famous periodicals of this country.

Good Times was established by a stock company at Columbus, O., June 1, with Opha Moore as editor-in-chief. It is at present a sixteen-page departmental periodical, published at the very low price of 25 cents a year or $2 for life membership subscriptions. It has a phenomenally large circulation for such a young publication and the rapidity of its growth has probably never been equaled by any other American periodical.

Its success can be traced to two causes—the low price and the variety of subjects covered by its large corps of well-known writers. Good Times has a regularly established program of literary attractions, starting in with the regular short story, followed by departments devoted to biography, popular science, amateur photography, the home, the family lawyer, health, editorial comment, a quiz club, curiosity shop, young people, sports and pastimes, synopsis of world events, home study and general miscellany.

It is particularly unique in the fact that it treats so much that is of inestimable value to the clean, refined family circle, while the extremely low price—25 cents per year—places it within the reach of the masses.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK REPUBLIC.

Every Monday and Thursday newspaper is good as a magazine—and better, for it contains the latest by telegraph as well as interesting stories—present to the subscriber of the "Twice-a-Week" Republic, which is only $1 a year.

The man who reads the "Twice-a-Week" Republic knows all about affairs political, domestic and foreign events; is posted about the markets and commercial generally.

The woman who reads the "Twice-a-Week" Republic gathers a bit of valuable information about household affairs and late fashions and finds recreation in the bright stories that come under both the headings of fact and fiction. There is gossip about new books and a dozen other topics of especial interest to the wide-awake man and woman.

The Only High Class Monthly, at 25c a Year, in the World

Every page a Magazine in itself; each department edited by "one who knows how!" every number a mine of information and entertainment.

ATTRACTIVE WOMEN.

All women sensibly desire to be attractive. Beauty is the stamp of health because it is the outward manifestation of inner purity. A healthy woman is always attractive, bright and happy. When every drop of blood in the veins is pure a beautiful flush is on the cheek. But when the blood is impure, moroseness, bad temper and a sallow complexion tell the tale of sickness, all too plainly. And women today know there is no beauty without health. Wine of Cardui cures women with beauty and attractiveness by making strong and healthy those organs which make her a woman. Try Wine of Cardui, and in a month your friends will hardly know you.

The Square Man.

The square man measures the same each way, and hasn't any crooked edges nor cheap lumber in him. He is free from knots and sap and won't warp. He is clear stuff and I don't care what you work him up into he won't swell and he won't shrink. He is amongst men what good kiln dried boards are among carpenters; he won't season-crack. It doesn't make any difference which side of him you come up to he is the same bigness each way and the only way to get to face him. He knows he is square and he never spends any time to prove it. The square man is one of the best shaped men the world has ever produced. He is one of them kind of chunks that you can't alter to get a spot, but must alter the spot to fit him.—Josh Billings.

G. A. Stillman, a merchant of Tampico, Ill., writes: "Foley's Kidney Cure is meeting with wonderful success. It has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I myself am able to testify to its merits. My face today is a living picture of health, and Foley's Kidney Cure has made it such." All dealers.

"NERVE WASTE."

One of the most helpful books on nerve weakness ever issued is that entitled "Nerve Waste," by Dr. Sawyer, of San Francisco, now in its fifth thousand. This work of an experienced and reputable physician is in agreeable contrast to the vast sum of false teaching which prevails on this interesting subject. It abounds in carefully considered and practical advice, and has the two great merits of wisdom and sincerity.

It is endorsed by both the religious and secular press. The Chicago Advertiser says: "A perusal of the book and the application of its principles will put health, hope and heart into thousands of lives that are now suffering through nerve impairment." The book is 312 pages, postpaid. One of the most interesting chapters—chapter xx, on nerves and nerve troubles—has been printed separately as a sample chapter, and will be sent to any address for stamp by the publishers, The Pacific Pub. Co., Box 2638, San Francisco.
